TRACK TEAM MAKES READY FOR CONTEST

Athletes Will Leave for Kingston Thursday

QUEEN'S HOPES

Tri-colour Has Strongest Team in History of University

"Everything is uncertain until the real strength of Queen's is known," said coach Van Wagner of the Track Team yesterday, "but I am confident that McGill has a good fighting chance to win in Kingston next Friday afternoon." The men are all hopeful, of success, he added, as they are in splendid condition, and more than one of them is certain that he can better his work of a few days ago, in the College championships.

Practically all the members of the team which leaves Montreal tomorrow night, were in uniform at the Stadium yesterday, although the Coach forbade any strenuous work, which he intends to slacken gradually. This afternoon, little more than a "warming up" will be allowed while almost nothing will be done tomorrow. Tonight every member of the team is expected to be present at the last training-table before the coming meet.

From the club house of the Kingston Presbyterians, comes the word that the Queen's men who compete on Friday form the best track team in the history of the college. The slogan of the tri-colours is a good one. "Let Queen's and Kingston break the Intercollegiate track meet attendance record"—and from all indications it may be accomplished. The city is flooded with blotters advertising the event, while prominent red type, meeting the eye on every corner, aids to keep Friday afternoon in mind.

Everywhere a real effort to encourage track work has been made. The Kingston Board of Education has granted a half holiday to all students in the public schools, and it is estimated that over two thousand children alone will be in the bleachers to watch McGill, Toronto, Queen's R. M. C., and perhaps Western, battle for the honours of the track. Of course the Queen's undergraduates and the Cadets from the R. M. C. will be present in full strength, while the City Council and the Board of Education will probably put in an appearance.

The Queen's manager frankly announces that his team will not win the meet—it cannot hope to do so the first year of its reorganized existence. But he confidently asserts that either Varsity or McGill, on Friday evening, will be sorrowfully murmuring, "If it had not been for the points gained by Queen's, our men would have won."

Tri-colour hopes are pinned on two Arts freshmen, Bobby Thompson, of Hamilton Collegiate Institute track fame, and his namesake Harvey, a speedy find from Niagara Falls. Bobby, Queen's proudly asserts, will be prominent in the finish of the mile and the half-mile, Harvey being the three-mile star. Wait! the Discus Champion, is going better than ever, while in the sprints the Royal Military College men are worth watching.

Varsity has had some discouraging news, but has by no means lost either spirit nor hope. Vince who scored

CERCLE WILL MAKE PLANS FOR SEASON

Meeting in Union Reading-Room To-night

WEEKLY MEETINGS

Discussions and Debates Will be Features This Year

This evening at eight-fifteen o'clock the first meeting of the Cercle Français for the session of 1924-1925 will be held in the Reading Room of the Union. All men students who are interested in French are invited to attend.

The Cercle Français does not expect from its members an intensive knowledge of the French tongue; it merely offers an opportunity to those who desire and who must perfect their ability in the use of the language to do so. It must not be forgotten that French speaking students are given special opportunity to take an active part in the Cercle. Such students will not find the Cercle in any way inferior to their tastes, for this club aims at offering a social medium for men students as well as a means for the serious discussion of debatable problems. If the precedent set by former years is continued there will be no dearth of lively debates this season.

The present plans augur well for the most successful Cercle Français has ever had. It is intended to hold weekly meetings. Two joint meetings are planned for this session, one each term. It is proposed to have the first one at an early date.

It will be noted that the list of officers of the Cercle in the McGill Hand-book is erroneous, being for the last session. This year's honorary president is Doctor Villard, and the president is Millington of Commerce '25.

COMMERCE TEAM SHOWED UP WELL

Back Division Will be Exceptionally Strong This Year

With their first game coming Friday the 17th, the Commerce football team put in a strenuous practice yesterday afternoon. As their opening fixture is with the Dents, who are reported to have a very strong team, the Business Men have been practicing faithfully, and although several players have to make their appearance, the Commerce squad is already assuming formidable proportions.

About fifteen men turned out for the last practice, and it is believed that still more will turn out for the next work-out. "Red" Kelland occupied quarter yesterday, and put the team through a stiff signal practice. The majority of the plays were run off without a hitch, and if the fumbling that was prevalent yesterday can be eliminated, a first fighting machine should be put on the field Friday. Pete Kenrick has been showing up well of late and should prove valuable on the back division. While the halves are unusually fast, considerable more weight is needed on the line, and if this is forthcoming, the team should prove a real worry to their opponents.

Considerable interest is being shown in the Interfaculty Games this season, and the first game should be attended by a record crowd.

TRY OUTS FOR M.S. P.E. ATHLETIC MEET

Junior Breaks Two Records at Yesterday's Practice

The try-outs for the M. S. P. E. Athletic Meet took place at the Motion Stadium yesterday morning, when two records were broken by a member of the Junior Year, Miss Clara Ballard. The record for the Javelin throw was formerly 61 ft. 4 in., but Miss Ballard has set a record of 74 ft. 2 in., which will be hard to beat.

The former baseball throw record was 148 ft. 5 in. Miss Ballard has also brought this up to 176 ft. 10 in. The Meet will be held on Friday, Oct. 17, when it is expected that more records will be broken as the present second year hope to uphold the honors which they won last fall.

The girls have been working hard since College opened under the leadership of Miss Harvey and Mr. Von Wagner, and the meet this year promises to provide lots of thrills. In any case the event is always interesting as it is an inter-year contest.

The teams for the two years will be as follows:—

50 yard dash
2nd year Misses Dow, Field. Ziff.
1st year, Misses Routh, Crossley, Ballard.

JAVELIN THROW
2nd year, Misses Kensit, Plumtree, Porke.

1st year, Misses Ballard, Oamaro, McKill.

BASEBALL THROW
2nd year, Misses Crang, Robertson, Kensit.

1st year, Misses Ballard, Ross, Montgomery.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP
2nd year, Misses Robertson, Ross, Crang, Tatlow, Dow.

1st year, Misses Ballard, Ross, McKill.

HOP, STEP AND JUMP
2nd year, Misses Robertson, Plumtree, Parke.

1st year, Misses Laroque, Oamaro, Burton.

HURDLES
1st year, Misses Burton, Westlake, Smith.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP
1st year, Misses Routh, Ross, Montgomery.

100 YARD SPRINT
1st year, Misses Burton, Ross, Oamaro.

100 yard sprint and running high jump, will take place to-morrow at ten o'clock.

The Motion Stadium has been used for all practices.

BUSINESS MEETING OF ARTS '26 YESTERDAY

The class of Arts '26 held a meeting yesterday afternoon in Room 5 of the Arts Building in order to discuss various business items connected with the class.

The commencement of the meeting was taken up by the election of a class reporter, and Allan Lathan was finally installed in the position. It was then moved that a 25 cent levy be asked from the class in order to help along Inter-faculty Football. Some objections were raised, however, as many considered that the $5.00 given annually to the Athletic Fund should cover this branch of sport as much as any other. After some discussion it was agreed that those who wished to do so could pay the subscription, but that there would be no general levy upon the class.

Another motion was brought up, suggesting that each member of the class should send in a subscription in order that a Junior Banner might be purchased. Several other suggestions were considered, but these were left to be decided upon at the next meeting of the class.

SOPHS ENFORCE FRESHMAN RULES

Colorful Tableaux Enacted on Main Thoroughfares

A rather unique sequel to the rooters practice took place yesterday in which Science freshmen were the principal actors, at least they were put forward as such, because of alleged infractions of the freshmen rules.

Yesterday afternoon they wore unceremoniously tied together, paraded up and down St. Catherine St. and made to do numerous stunts around an interested traffic policeman on the corner of Peel.

As far as is known, not one member of Science '28 escaped. There were many vigorous attempts, one ambitious youth hiding in the boiler-room, but after having been locked in by the janitor, and not wishing to spend a night among the pipes, he was forced to surrender. The sophs recognizing the valor of their noble foe, gave him the honor of leading the line.

With hand tied behind, faces made glorious with red paint, hootblack, and powder, and smelling very strongly of perfume, the uproariously gay freshmen were herded up and down St. Catherine St. and were forced to play ring-around-a-rosy around the traffic policeman at the corner of Peel St. Every body then marched down to Walton's famous Cafe Grill where the pipe of peace was smoked over coffee and crullers. The proceedings came to a friendly conclusion at the Union. As a result of stringent treatment science sophomores have reason to believe that freshmen rules will be adhered to till the end of the week.

M. S. P. E. SENIORS IN TENNIS FINALS

Miss Robertson Plays Miss Tatlow To-day

The third round of the M. S. P. E. Tennis Tournament has been reached and the play-off for the finals will take place at an early date.

In Year I, "A" Section the tournament has been characterized throughout by close and keen play. Miss M. Routh, by winning her match from Miss J. Ramsay gained the privilege of playing in the finals against Miss O. Montgomery. Both Miss Routh and Miss Montgomery display tennis of a high standard and the final play-off will no doubt be well contested.

In Section "B" Miss C. Ballard having won her game from Miss M. McKindsey is up to play for the finals with Miss A. Dewey who won from Miss M. Houghton. Miss Ballard's skill at placing and her swift return, pitted against Miss Dewey's quick action and tricky serve should result in a keenly fought match.

In Year II, Class "A" Miss L. Tatlow displayed her usual tennis skill by winning from Miss M. Brooks by a score of (6-0) (6-0). The score does not indicate the true nature of the play however, as Miss Brooks played an excellent game, Miss Tatlow's superior methods of placing, and her swift service being responsible in a large measure for the outcome of the game.

The contest between Miss M. Robertson and Miss B. Field was equally well played. Miss Robertson's precision and quick action won the game for her. The score was (6-0) (6-0).

The enthusiasm throughout the tournament has been very high and it is expected that the finals will be witnessed by a large number of spectators.

It has not been definitely decided when the Year I, finals will be scheduled but it is hoped they will be played in the very near future. The match between Miss Tatlow and Miss Robertson takes place today at 4 p. m. in the Hollow Courts.

BAND SHOWS PROMISE FOR THE SEASON

Bandmaster Gagnier Getting Good Results

TWENTY MEN OUT

A Good Showing Will be Made on Saturday

An enthusiastic Practice of the McGill Rooters Band was held in the Hall Room of the Union between seven and eight o'clock last evening. In all, twenty men in charge of Bob Logan turned out, and under the leadership of Bandmaster Gagnier played excellent music. The section of marches played, included two new pieces and also Willard Crocker's March Song. The pieces are all lively, with a lot of swing and rhythm to them, so that no man there will be in doubt as to the quality of music which will lead him to the Stadium on Saturday. It is a band which will compare favorably with similar organizations of sister Universities, and one which is every creditable to McGill. The practice closed with the playing of the Alma Mater and God Save the King.

Bob Logan says that another Baritone player is badly needed, and has asked that he turn out on Friday at 5 p. m. for the last practice before McGill first Intercollegiate home game.

The band is going to lead the Thundering Thousands from the lower Campus to the Stadium at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, and it is expected every undergraduate in the University will make it a point to be there.

It is planned to send the musicians to Kingston, and in order to raise money to do this, several ideas are being worked out. One of these is to hold some kind of a Tag Day at the Stadium previous to the Queens game. This plan is by no means definitely decided upon, but it is a possible and looks like a remunerative one.

The band has decided for the R. M. C. game to wear blue pants and McGill coat sweaters with roll collars, although a different permanent uniform may be decided upon later.

STUDENTS OUT WEST TO HOLD CONFERENCE

New York, Oct. 14. (By the "New Student")—Students from all the states west of the Rockies, from Mexico and from British Columbia will hold a convention at Asilomar or Monterey Bay, California from December 27 to January 3.

The West Coast Inter-racial problem, Christianity and vital American social problem education and training for Christian service, the present need for men in full time Christian service and campus conditions affecting full time Christian life service are the problems slated for discussion.

Sherwood Eddy, Bishop P. J. McConnell of Pittsburgh, Francis P. Miller of New York, James A. Francis of Los Angeles and Harrison S. Elliott of the Union Theological Seminary of New York are among the headliners scheduled to address the gathering.

Commissions have been appointed to study the question which will be discussed by the convention before the discussion begins.

SCIENCE '26 ELECTS EXECUTIVE FOR TERM

At the first meeting of Science '26, held last night, in the Engineering Building, the following executive was elected:—

President—R. E. Barret.
Vice-President—S. Almoud.
Secretary-treasurer—W. Kyle.
Costigan and Bremner were also elected to represent their class on the Junior Prom committee.

After some difficulty in getting the men together the meeting was opened by Rutherford the former president. As it was there were only about fifty present, but there being little business for discussion, the meeting was adjourned.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE BY STUDENTS COUNCIL REGARDING COMING EVENTS

Rooters' Band to Make Trip to Kingston — Plans to Raise Money — Red and White Revue for March 16 — Three Night Performances — Guarantee for Cornell Debating Team — Tentative Dance Programme Approved — Will Not Sponsor Student Tours.

The McGill Rooters Band will probably make the trip to Kingston with the football team if the plans suggested by the Students' Council materialize. The Band has been making excellent progress during the past few days and there is not the slightest doubt in the world but that it will be the best organization of its kind seen and heard on the campus for a good many years. It is felt by the Council and by the supporters of the team that the presence of the musicians at the only remaining big game away from home would be a decided asset, and it is to this end that the present plans for raising a travelling fund have been formulated. The direct course of action has not been decided yet that will be left largely in the hands of the band itself—but a collection or a souvenir sale at the Queen's game here on the twenty-fifth will probably supply the necessary finances to send the artists to the Limestone City. Definite plans will be announced in the very immediate future, as it is necessary that all details be completed before the R. M. C. game so that they may be announced on that occasion.

There was a good deal of other business conducted at yesterday's Council meeting, including discussion on the Red and White revue. It was thought that if a theatre was obtainable, the best date for holding the big show would be during the week commencing March 6th. Three night performances are being planned and the production will be staged by Sidney Pierce, who was very active with last year's success.

In connection with the abolishment of hazing, a letter was read from the Principal, who stated his hearty approval of the steps which have been taken. Other correspondence included a letter from the University of Montreal asking for a McGill representative at the annual fete to be held on Saturday night.

A guarantee of one hundred dollars for the Cornell debating team was also approved, providing that a suitable date could be arranged for the visit of the American student-orators. The Council took the stand that debating at McGill should be encouraged to the greatest possible degree, the members believing that visits from college teams constitute a stimulus to debating here.

A tentative dance programme until the mid-year was submitted by the president of the Union House, Ted Newton, and this was passed by the Council. According to the present schedule the first informal dance will be held a week from Friday and the Union House dance on December 12th. The date of the Junior Prom, has not been fixed as yet.

It has decided also that the Council could not sponsor any one of the five proposed student tours for the coming summer and in consequence the official representatives of the student body will not connect themselves with any organization fostering European trips next June.

A communication will be sent to the University officials, asking, if it is possible to do so, to provide parking space for cars around the campus as it is found that the present ruling is causing considerable inconvenience.

The President, Basil McLennan, was in the chair and the minutes of the former meeting were read by the secretary, G. H. Fletcher.

DR. G. S. WHITBY TO TALK ON CHEMISTRY

Dr. Y. S. Whitby will address the Chemical Society on Friday Oct. 17th in the Macdonald Chemistry and Mining Building. The subject of his lecture will be "Chemistry at the British Empire Exhibition."

This is the first of the usual series of fortnightly lectures given by various well-known speakers before the society during the year. As these lectures have always been well attended in the past it is expected that even larger crowds will attend this year. The society has extended a warm welcome to all those interested to attend the first of these lectures Friday evening.

MANY NEW MEMBERS FOR MINNESOTA DAILY

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 13.—(By Exchange Service) Two special writers, one assistant night editor and 26 reporters have been added to the staff of the Minnesota Daily, official newspaper of the University of Minnesota, according to an announcement made here by C. Alvin Lindquist, managing editor.

MICHIGAN FRESHMAN SEARCHED ALL DAY FOR CAMPUS TICKET

Inquiring as to whether he could secure a "campus ticket" in that office, a freshman hurried about from office to office in Michigan University Hall recently to secure this mysterious piece of pasteboard which some upper classman had told him was necessary for his welfare.

Sending the humor of the situation, the assistants in the various offices referred him from one to another until he finally met one of the deans and stated his case. When asked what he wanted a campus ticket, he replied that he must have it to be exempt.

"Exempt from what?" asked the dean.

CHORAL SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Splendid Turn-out Marks Beginning of Season

The inaugural meeting of the Choral Society was held in the Union yesterday. A large number of men and women attended, and the enthusiasm displayed bids well for the future of the club.

Howard Elliot, president of the McGill Musical Association called the meeting to order and briefly outlined the objects of the club. Financial matters were then discussed, and practice hours on Wednesday evenings. As no definite decisions could be made right at once a committee of three women and three men were elected to carry out suggestions made at the meeting.

The splendid response of the women has made it imperative that all available tenors and basses should join the Society in order that a well-balanced chorus may be obtained. Full particulars as regards the practices will appear in the "Daily" as soon as they can be definitely arranged.

"Exempt from violence," the yearling replied.
He explained that he already had part of a ticket which he had procured at the time of registration but this did not make him wholly exempt, and he had been warned to secure the proper credentials at once.
The dean noticing a group of four men waiting without his door and their evident interest in the action of the freshman, told him that he was the victim of an old time campus joke, and that this ticket was entirely unnecessary for his safety on the campus. Breathing a sigh of relief the freshman made a hasty retreat.

MANY LETTERS ARE WAITING FOR PRIME MINISTER'S SON

Letters forwarded from 10 Downing Street, addressed to Malcolm J. MacDonald, Esq., are now in the hands of members of the department of public speaking of Ohio State University awaiting the arrival of the three young men who will represent Oxford University in a debate with the Ohio State team.

One of the letters is posted from California, and has already been forwarded to three prior addresses. There is one from Arthur Henderson, the honorary secretary of the Labor Party and the home secretary of the present English cabinet, and an impressive envelope from the Bank of England.

J. D. Woodruff from New College, and M. C. Hollie of Balliol College, will take the affirmative argument of the question, "Resolved, That this house condemns the policy of France toward Germany since the war."

When the debate was arranged with the English team, Oxford students requested 20 minutes constructive speeches with one five minute rebuttal. The Ohio State request was for 12 minute constructive speeches and three six minute rebuttals. Compromise resulted in having 16 minute constructive speeches and one six minute rebuttal.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1924.

THE SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING.

The semi-annual meeting of the Students' Society will be held at eleven o'clock this morning in the ball room of the Union, and in consideration of this lectures have been cancelled in all faculties from eleven o'clock until one. The main item on the programme of business is the presentation for consideration and discussion, of a financial statement for the year ending June 30, 1924. There is nothing of a sensational or novel character in these facts, but they represent, in concrete form, to what extent the various undergraduate organizations succeeded or failed financially.

The meeting is not an entertainment, it is simply an assemblage of organized investors in, and beneficiaries of, a great institution, for the serious consideration of business affecting them. Its success will depend wholly on the interest taken in it, and the number of students who attend.

We have long prided ourselves upon having a democratic and advanced system of self-government. Much of this vaunted democratic enthusiasm never gets beyond the nebulous or gaseous stage, and the burden of government and initiative is very often assumed by the few. Unquestionably there are a great many whose attitude towards the management and business of their own society has been one of continued indifference, an attitude that paralyses, that curtails achievement. We owe it to ourselves to attend the Students' Society meeting; we are only doing the logical thing inasmuch as we strive to know and thoroughly understand our own business. It is as much our duty to be present as it is for the members of parliament during session when the Cabinet presents its budget.

Every student will have ample opportunity to criticize, to question, to suggest improvements on matters of general concern.

If there is any thing to be said, the sensible man will say it during the meeting. It is a despicable method to express criticism and dissatisfaction afterwards when no good can be effected.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

Any attempt which is made to keep interest in music alive among undergraduates is to be welcomed. Such an attempt is being made at the present time. A number of students are devoting a great deal of time and thought to the organization of a Choral Society, which will include both male and female students. Societies of a similar nature have failed in the past, not through lack of energetic action on the part of their executives, but through lack of support of those who were expected to help make the society flourish. If the spark of interest in music, which exists in every human being, can be aroused at McGill, there will be no need in future to look back regretfully on the ruins of another musical organization. We hope the Choral Society meets with success.

The progress being made by the Rooters' Band is more evident at each succeeding practice. In all probability the musicians will journey to Kingston with the rugby squad. If they do there is little doubt that the Kingston students will enjoy some stirring martial music.

TRACK TEAM MAKES READY FOR CONTEST.

ed ten points for his Alma Mater in the sprints last year, is out of competition with an injured leg, while his likely successor, Russell of the hundred in ten flat team, has lost his year, and is therefore ineligible. Somerville is another who did well in the University sports, and yet will miss the trip, while the decision of Captain Francis, the pole-vaulter, to remain away from College this year is yet another blow.

But all is not black in the Blue and white camp. According to recent news, Leigh, former college title-holder in the distance events, is quickly rounding into condition, while such men as Christie, Mabey, Mackenzie and Burke, all newcomers of renown, are certain to give a good account of themselves.

But at McGill, Coach Van Wagner simply smiles and says "We have a good fighting chance." The number of men, not on the team, who are still attending track practices is slowly diminishing, and many seem to consider the season about over. This is by no means the case. Now is the time to prepare for next autumn, and every man who expects to run then should be out each day. The Harriers will soon be commencing their scheduled workouts at which more distance men than ever before are expected. The prospects in this line seem very bright, but work is needed more than prophecies just at the present.

PLANS FOR THE YEAR IN DENTAL FACULTY

A well attended meeting of the Dental Undergraduates Society was held in the Assembly Hall of the Medical Building last evening. A committee composed of Messrs. Carney, McMahon, O'Mara, Henderson and Bell, were appointed to look after the Dental Skit in the Red and White Revue, means were adopted to raise funds to equip the Dental Rugby Team and plans were adopted for the Dental Dance.

Dean Thornton made a speech in which he stressed the need for a high moral code in the Dental student, and quoted from his vast stock of experience, making his usual clever sallies and illustrating his points in the able manner which has distinguished this noted speaker.

The Educational White Hope?

The announcement of a new and "independent" college to be organized by Dr. Alexander Melkielejohn is obviously unauthorized and premature. Such details as have appeared, furthermore, are obviously inaccurate. One newspaper account derives a fanciful picture of the new institution from the presumed antipathy of its founder to semester examinations. The "precise issue" upon which Dr. Melkielejohn resigned from Amherst, it says, was the mid-year examination and the separation of "junior and senior colleges." This is a new theory of the liberal college. Neither the triviality nor the palpable irresponsibility of such descriptions of the new college have deterred editorial comment, however. The New York Times has solemnly frowned upon the mid-yearless innovation. In Abolard's time, to be sure, "there were no Carnegie units of admission; there was no college examination board." But we have travelled a long way upon the road of progress since those days. Our colleges have "evolved into stable institutions with trustees and bursars, with endowments of tradition and funds, with buildings upon which ivy has grown and around which affection has gathered, with 'counts' for admission and semester hours for graduation." All this progress (this progress from Abolard to Ivy) Dr. Melkielejohn proposes to abandon.

All of which is solemn nonsense whether or not Dr. Melkielejohn is actually about to organize a new college. It is also evidence that he had better.

NO INJURIES SUFFERED BY FIRST SQUAD

Seniors in Good Shape After Varsity Game
SIGNAL PRACTICE
Second and Third Teams Ready for University of Montreal

The Senior team held its first practice since the Varsity game yesterday afternoon and the Intermediates and Juniors were also out in uniform to get in shape for to-day's game with University of Montreal. The turn-out was not as large as those of last week, about forty men reporting to the coach. The Juniors and Intermediates went through a thorough practice as it was the last opportunity before the game to-day. The second and third teams were instructed on the finer points of the game and are all ready to meet the East End Collegians. The teams should put up a better battle than against the Loyola squads as they are now accustomed to playing together. The trouble with the two teams of late seems to lay in the fact that they were unused to playing together and lacked team work rather than ability. However, they have played together in hard games in the past two weeks and should show up well against the French team. The University of Montreal teams are practicing hard and are putting a good outfit into the field. Although they were both beaten by Loyola, it must be remembered it was their first game and much is expected of them to-day.

The coach put the Seniors through a signal drill yesterday and contented himself in getting the men to act in unison rather than attempting anything heavy in the line of scrimmage work. The squad feels no ill effects from the Varsity game and all those who were forced out of the game due to injuries are all in fine form again. The coach realizes that Saturday's defeat was due to over-training as much as anything else and is not pushing the squad too hard. The R. M. C. game next Saturday will be another real test for the squad as the cadets have a heavy line and are a snappy outfit. The coach however is not worried as much about this game, as it is only an exhibition for the real battle comes when the champion Queen's team come here in two week's time. However, a victory over R. M. C. would give the team the necessary confidence, which is also a thing they seemed to lack in the Varsity game.

TENNIS TEAM FROM VARSITY VERY STRONG

Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament Here Will be Close
FIVE ENTRANTS
McGill Team Chosen With Exception of Sixth Man

The Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament takes place on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and interest has reached its height, and a record crowd will undoubtedly be in attendance at the McGill Tennis Courts. Entries are expected from Toronto University, Osgoode Hall, R. M. C. Queens University and the University of Montreal which should ensure keen competition. The McGill team, which has been all chosen with the exception of the record doubles team, is composed of six men, five already having gained places.

The sixth position is being contested for by S. W. Brown and Art Abbott, who will play off to-day for the team. While strong teams are being entered by all colleges, Toronto is the entry to be most feared. Art Ham, and Gilbert Munns both Varsity men, are veterans of the sport, Gilbert being former Junior Champion of Canada.

The players follow in the order in which they will play.

WHAT HO, HEINZ?
Reform is needed in the backsliding cities of the United States. When Philadelphia was famous for the romance of its history, Washington for the splendor of its statesmen, Chicago for its stock yards, and Boston for its beans, some degree of urban pride was possible; but now with Philadelphia hailed for its underworld, Washington for its baseball team, Chicago for its murderers, and—worst of all—Boston for its cake eating, Civil Pride must hide its head beneath the ash heap. One can forgive the other cities, but never Boston—just entitled The Greatest Cake Eating Center in the World.

Cake could never have formed the sinews that waged Boston's wars and built her towers. Baked beans were the food that gave the force to Boston armies, the eloquence to Boston orators, the life to Boston industry. Now, however, the bean sits humble and forlorn while in the place of honor the cake reposes in frosted complacency. Not so once. In Puritan days marriages in Boston were solemnized with the following oath: "To you I shall be true till Boston goes back on ye bean." "Till Boston goes back on ye bean," murmured the wedding guests. "Till Boston goes back on ye bean," echoed the walls.

But the Day of Judgment has arrived. The bean lies cold and stiff in the ice-box, the cake is smoking on the board. And the ghosts of Miles Standish, John Alden, and Governor Winthrop collect in the corner and tell each other that it never could have happened in 1624.

"LETTING UP"
Let's get started right, students. When a cheer leader and his assistants ask for a yell at a game or pep meeting let's give it to him or them as the case may be. Let's get started right. But then too, let's keep going right. The start will get one nowhere unless he strives to finish well also. What would happen to a runner if he got a lead of say 20 or 30 yards on his opponent and then slowed up? The question answers itself. The man would lose.

And so it is with our school spirit, students. For the first few yells everyone joins in. That's fine and it should be. But notice about the middle of a game or pep meeting. Nearly half of the original volume has gone. Where? There seems to be but one answer and that is that about half of the students have quit yelling.

But there is one thing we must watch out for, students, and that is "letting up." Of course our throats will get sore, and after the game we won't be able to talk over a whisper, but if we feel any other way; if our throats aren't sore, if we aren't "all in" after a game or pep meeting we have not given the team or cheer leaders our best. We are not working as hard as they are. The pep has started fine this year; let's keep it that way.

October 14, 1924.

The Editor,
McGill Daily:
Dear Sir,—I have just undergone the somewhat distressing experience of having various alterations made in my attire publicly. The enthusiastic though misguided set of sophomores responsible for this minor outrage have told me that it was due to a resolution, appearing in the "Daily" this morning, issued by the committee on initiation and signed by the chairman of that committee.

May I make my position clear. When news of the abolition of hazing arrived simultaneously with the announcement of the forthcoming fresh-soph. rush, I believed that the freshman party would be the weaker. This belief was due to a consideration of the superior organization of the sophomore year. Realizing that I must eventually identify myself with Science '28, and nobly wishing to serve the weaker side, I sailed forth last week wearing the emblems of the frosh, and was swept into the struggle from that side. There is no need to remark that my judgment was at fault. What actually occurred is now a matter of history. I can fully realize the bitterness with which the sophomores must regard me, for had I been on their side, how different it all might have been. However, the fight was over, and all parties concerned began adapting themselves to the conditions of reconstruction following.

For a party as badly beaten as the sophomores had been, to start setting terms was a matter displaying admirable audacity, not to say cheek. However, the new rules affected me in no way, and by a supreme effort I said nothing.

And now, like a bolt from the blue, comes this morning's occurrence. I will come to the point of my letter—that I am firmly convinced of the injustice of this morning's resolution and that I refuse to abide by it. If it is to be imposed on me it must be done by force and force alone. Further, though I may be compelled to wear a red and white cap, I will at least not pay for it. May I suggest that a subscription be started among the second year men to raise the funds necessary. After all, they can get it at the wholesale price. It is no concern of mine.

I sincerely regret the necessity of my speaking so plainly, and I hope that the sophomores will take a reasonable attitude in regard to this matter.

Yours, etc.
L. M. MORRISON.

Last year I made an effort to serve the student body, apart from the Cafeteria, by catering to class dinners, society and club banquets, and special lunches. The results were so well received that I am emphasizing this part of the Union service even more this year

For we are now better equipped than ever to handle functions of this sort. With an adequate supply of everything needed for these occasions, I can provide for you in your own institution, and under circumstances far more compatible with college life.

Two sailors got into a discussion over the exact definition of a helper. One claimed that a helper belonged to the hog family, the other that it was a variety of sheep. After a long argument they decided to refer the question to a disinterested critic. "Bill," they asked the boatswain, "what's a helper? We're having an argument." Bill bit off a large chew of tobacco reflectively. "To tell the truth, mates," he said, "I dunno much about poultry."

ARTS TEAM HAD HARD WORK-OUT

Team Showed Good Form in Last Practice

Arts held their last football practice yesterday before their game with Science this afternoon. The main part of the afternoon was given over to kicking, very little time being given signal and scrimmage practice. Fraser Cameron and Bob Gammell, two promising men were on hand yesterday, and turned in a very good exhibition of kicking. Clayton Bourle Olympic swimmer, was in uniform, and proved that he was as good on land as he is in the water.

Judging from appearances, the Arts line will be especially heavy this year, and if the backs are as good as this years front line, the Science squad have plenty of opposition on their hands this afternoon.

Report Of The Principal

In the School of Commerce the four-year course operated for the first time and one innovation which thus became possible was the work in Investigation Practice, in which every member of a class is called upon to make individual research and to prepare solutions for problems of a practical nature.

Another course which has been newly instituted is that of Actuarial Science. This course has been devised in co-operation with members of the Institute of Actuaries, and will enable the student who follows it to become an associate of the Institute, after a year's work in a life office.

In the Faculty of Medicine changes have been made in the entrance requirements, involving two years' study in the Faculty of Arts, prior to Matriculation in the Faculty of Medicine. During these two years the student is required to complete his pre-medical work in Biology, Physics and Inorganic and Organic Chemistry. The course in the Faculty of Medicine has been definitely fixed at five years, and the curriculum more accurately defined. It has also been decided that, during the month of April, there will be a special intensive course for graduates, given chiefly in clinical subjects and so arranged as to present the most modern advances in modern knowledge. Coincidentally with this course, Honour students in Medicine will be allowed certain options, providing both teachers and students a little latitude for instruction at the end of the course.

Extension Courses and University Lectures
Among the most important activities of the University, at any rate so far as their effect on the outside world are concerned, are those carried on by the Committee on Extension Courses and University Lectures, whose work consists in the provision of lectures for non-members of the University.

There are, in the first place, the courses of lectures of a strictly academic nature, in which the instruction given is similar to that provided for University graduates and for which academic credit is given. In the second place, there are courses given for definite groups drawn from certain businesses or professions. The University has adopted the principle that in such courses as this no attempt will be made to teach the technique of the business in which the students are engaged. It is felt that such work can be done far better by the institutions where they are serving. There is, however, no doubt that a service can be rendered in giving a considerable amount of information regarding, and guidance in, the study of other subjects which are of importance to them in the practice of their profession.

In conformity with this principle a course was last year given for insurance agents, which dealt with such subjects as Economics, Accounting, English and Psychology. These were combined with instruction in salesmanship and life insurance, given by members of the insurance profession. This course, which was attended by about 75 agents, was made possible by the hearty co-operation of many members of the insurance world, and the thanks of the University are especially due to Mr. G. H. Harris of the Sun Life Assurance Co., who took a most active part in its organization and execution.

A similar course of lectures was given under the auspices of the School of Social Workers. Several well-known authors and men interested in social problems addressed the students, also making, wherever possible, a survey of institutions and giving in many cases most valuable advice.

A third type of lecture provided was designed for the general public. The lectures given by Count Albert Apponyi, by Professor William McDougall, by Mr. Bliss Carman and by Mr. George Trevelyan were attended by interested audiences. Finally, Dr. Silberstein, the chief physicist of the Eastman Kodak Company, gave three lectures on a new theory on distant stellar and nebular bodies.

Another kind of course provided was that mentioned in last year's report, given for the benefit of limited undergraduates, who are obtaining degrees as the result of part-time attendance over a number of years. These courses, given in co-operation with the Teacher's Association, were well attended, and it is hoped that (To Be Continued)

PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY MEETING

New Officers Elected at First Meeting of Year

The first meeting of the Pharmaceutical Society for the session 1924-25 was held last night in the New Medical Building.

The president opened the meeting by welcoming last years members and extending a cordial welcome to the Freshmen, who publicly introduced themselves amid loud applause.

The reports of last year's executive were then given, all reports being most favorable to the members. W. H. Tabb, the president, very briefly and concisely outlined last years activities, which indeed were most encouraging. Due to the persistent postponing of the executive last year, they succeeded in improving their course by the addition of very excellent and necessary practical work, which is carried out in a splendid laboratory attached to them in the New Medical Building. As yet, they have been unsuccessful in having the degree of Bachelor of Pharmacology granted them. However what has been accomplished augurs well for the future. The President concluded his remarks by calling for the election of officers.

Hon. Pres.—Prof. Alex. B. T. Moore
President—W. H. Tabb
Vice-President—R. Ginsberg
Secy.—D. Sherwin
Ass. Secy.—I. Klein
Treasurer—Presner
Ass. Manager—J. Goldapple

A most interesting and enjoyable meeting was brought to a close by having the Freshman serve the refreshments.

COMPARISON, BUT NOT CHOICE
The recent statement of President L. D. Coffman, of the University of Minnesota, to the effect that the future of American education, as well as of several other things, belongs to the western universities, strikes the cultured ear of the effete East somewhat harshly. Even when due allowance is made for local and sectional patriotism, the conviction remains that President Coffman has been guilty of exaggeration—excusable, perhaps, but still exaggeration.

For one thing, education is not a geographically transferable commodity, like food-stuffs or the Federal Reserve. Whether for good or bad, it remains in one place, and grows about itself a decorative ivy of cultural tradition, bedded and nourished in the soil in which it stands; so that one hears the expression, "a southern education," "a New England education," applied to the educational heritage of particular regions of the country.

President Coffman is quite right in pointing out that there is a difference in the types of higher learning cultivated in the East and in the West. The West is young, vigorous, and intensely practical. Its literature has been enriched—though this has not yet been universally conceded—by the work of Masters, of Sandberg, of Anderson, whose young and engagingly pessimistic view of life has done much to stimulate modern American thought. Its education is of a more immediate turn. There is less of that deliberately pure scholarship which is found in the East, of that ripe appreciation of higher values which comes with maturity and age.

ARTS FRESHMEN MET YESTERDAY

Elected Officers and Made Plans for Session

Arts '28 held a meeting yesterday in the Biological Building, at 1 p.m., for the purpose of electing the officers of the class for the coming year.

Frank Roncarelli, of Commerce, presided at the meeting, until Kerr was re-elected as President, after which he took charge of affairs. When the Chairman called for motions for president, it was suggested that the executive which had been elected a few weeks ago should continue in office. However, this proposal met with some disapproval, and a general vote was taken for the positions of president, vice-president and secretary. Kerr and Bell were re-elected to the first two positions, while Smith was appointed secretary in place of Caron, who resigned. Several new members of the executive were elected in order to make the running of the class easier, and more efficient, and all these positions were allotted unanimously.

Duckworth, president of Arts '27, spoke to the class for a moment at the beginning of the meeting about the Freshmen Rules, which he read for the last time. He said he had a list of those who were not obeying these regulations, and that the offenders would be severely dealt with if they further neglected the rules.

Commerce '28 met at the same time, and unanimously re-elected their previous executive.

President—Kerr.
Vice-president—Bell.
Secretary-treasurer—Don Smith.
Athletic Manager—Spence.
Representative on the Daily—Diplock.
